EARTHQUAKE KILLS 187 JAPANESE AT NAGOYA

Tokyo, November 26.—The Governor of Shizuoka Prefecture announced 187 persons were known to have perished in an earthquake which struck the Izu Peninsula early today.

The Izu Peninsula projects southward from the principal Japanese Island of Honshu. Nagoya, one of the peninsula's largest cities, lies at the northwestern base of the peninsula while Shizuoka, another large city is at the opposite side.

Nagoya is about 150 miles southwest of Tokyo, while Shizuoka lies about 100 miles from the Japanese capital.

The peninsula is thickly populated. Today's quake climaxed a series which have shocked parts of the Izu Peninsula an average of 300 times a day since November 10.

The peninsula is Japan's choicest playground, especially in the winter owing to the warm climate abounding at its various hot springs.

The seacoast between Atami and Ito is called the "Riviera of Japan".

DAY BY DAY WITH GOVERNOR PATTERSON

The figure of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt looms just now above all the rest of the Democrats of the country who have been mentioned as probable candidates for the Democratic nomination for president in 1932.

The overwhelming victory which Governor Roosevelt won at the polls in his recent contest with his Republican opponent makes him at present the most talked of man in politics.

It is rather early however to begin at this time the work of selecting a candidate for president. In our rapid and ever changing times many things may occur in the next year or so to alter the whole aspect of political affairs, and our committals today may not be what we desire tomorrow.

Looking at the present alone Governor Roosevelt appears the most attractive to the Democratic hope and mind. He is fresh from a contest in the largest of our States where he received a tremendous majority, greater in fact than was ever accorded any other Democrat for the office of governor. Not only was the administration of Roosevelt endorsed, but the vote he received should also be taken as the sign of the personal esteem in which he is held by the citizenship of New York.

Franklin Roosevelt is the fifth cousin of the former President Theodore Roosevelt and the Roosevelt name has long been prominent in New York. Franklin is the only one of the family reaching political prominence who is a Democrat, though in many respects his illustrious kinsman was more of a Democrat than a Republican in his manner of thought and his views of government.

Franklin Roosevelt may have been aided by the glamour of the family name at the honor which has always attached to it, but he can well stand alone on his own merit and accomplishments.

Everyone speaks of his winning personality, his clear cut features and finely moulded face indicating both character and friendliness. He has been a great physical sufferer which he has borne with remarkable patience and fortitude. The story goes that when his family were sojourning for the summer months in Canada near the bay of Fundy, that Roosevelt who was then in the full vigor of his young manhood went up from New York to join them. His children took immediate possession of their father, carrying him for a run thru the woods and winding up with a long swim in the very cold waters of the bay.

From that day on Roosevelt was a cripple. He was seized by infantile paralysis and for a long time sat in an invalid's chair unable to stand or walk. In the last few years of his health has greatly improved and he is able to get about fairly well with the aid of a cane.

It was on account of his health that Roosevelt first declined to become a candidate for governor of New York. Governor Smith's insistence who was then a candidate for president won over Mrs. Roosevelt, and her husband then gave his own consent to enter the contest.

With his continued physical improvement Governor Roosevelt has been able to take a full part in his campaign appearing before large audiences and making numerous addresses in all parts of the State. Roosevelt's administration of State affairs has evidently proven highly satisfactory as his magnificent vote of confidence attests.

He is a lawyer by profession which he practiced for a number of years, until the fascination of politics lured him as it has others bearing his distinguished name.

His life has been singularly clean. As a family man he has been an example of loyalty and as a public character his name is without reproach.

When we begin our American habit of guessing as to who our nominees will be, it is very natural that Governor Roosevelt comes first to mind. Commercial Appeal.

Electric appliances, beautiful and practical for gifts at Sikes Hardware Company.

Another Chillicothe Business College graduate, Miss Thelma McKenney, has been selected as stenographer for Congressman W. H. Sproul of the 3rd Kansas District. Two other C. B. C. grads are in Washington as stenographers for congressmen.

KROGER GROCERY COMPANY CONTRIBUTES TO THE WORKING PEOPLE'S CHURCH

Elder John B. Huffman reports that the Kroger Grocery and Baking Co. sent him a check for $15 from St. Louis on the new Sikeston Church for Working People—being the largest contribution so far by local merchants. The People's Store of Sikeston, also donated one dollar. While that is the smallest donation yet made by any Sikeston merchant, we thank them for that little mite.

Every week contributions are received from somewhere in the United States and will continue until the money is all raised for the balance due on church lots and church building.

Those interested in the 'common people, please send check for donation to the Pentecostal Church of God to Elder John B. Huffman, box 476, Sikeston. All money is deposited in bank for church fund. Not one cent is for any private use. All money is given account of in an itemized way and every cent for church lots and building.

Thank one and all for their offerings. Thank the Standard editor, the largest contributor—his space, which is just the same as a merchant's money, wares, goods or groceries. Thank you, one and all.—John B. Huffman.

E. L. Griffin of Charleston visited friends in Sikeston Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Earl Allen spent a few days visiting homefolks in Cairo, this week.

Santa Claus is here. You should stop in and look over the toys early which will be on display Friday morning so that you may have your choice at Sikes Hardware Company.

The Chillicothe Business College rejoices over the selection of Miss Blanche Lewis, one of its recent graduates, for an important position in the State Auditor's office at Jefferson City.

FAIRBANKS MORSE CINCH CONTRACT FOR MUNY PLANT WITH BID OF $123,600

The Fairbanks Morse Company of Chicago was awarded the contract for the erection of Sikeston's municipal light, white way and distribution system by the City Council Tuesday night. A total bid of $123,600 by the company was reached after a session lasting nearly 36 hours, and represents a net saving of $26,400 to the city, when compared with original estimates which called for the expenditure of about $150,000.

Sutterfield and Weltecke, local contractors will be sub-contractors in charge of erecting the building, foundation, etc. The local firm was low bidder on this section of the contract with an offer of $15,355, which, however, is included in the total amount mentioned.

The R. H. Bouligny Company, Inc., of Charlotte, N. C., will be in charge of constructing the white way, distribution system, erecting the switchboard and doing station wiring.

Response of bidders in the Sikeston municipal project exceeded all expectations. Bids were accepted up to 2 o'clock Monday, and the Council went to work immediately tabulating the material and sifting out undesirable material. In the meantime, some fifty or sixty bidders, sub-contractors, supply agents and representatives of various companies lined the corridors of the City Hall or gathered in small groups and discussed the possible outcome of the meeting.

Representatives of various engine manufacturing concerns and bidders on other sections of the contract were called before the Council late Tuesday evening and again at intervals Wednesday for questioning. The method proved to be a satisfactory method of combining the best features of unit bids, and consolidating the sections.

Weltecke and Sutterfield are local contractors and in keeping with a policy of furnishing as much home work as possible, the Council entertained an offer from the Fairbanks Morse Company, to allow the local bidders, which incidentally were lowest in price, to construct the building.

The contract will be formally accepted by the Council at its next regular meeting next Monday night, and work on the project will go forward as rapidly as weather permits. April 1, 1931, exactly one year from the time the bond issue election was held, has been set as the date of completion of the project.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK CLOSURES AFTER RUN AT CARUTHERSVILLE

Caruthersville, November 25.—The First National Bank of Caruthersville closed its doors this afternoon after a 10-day run on the bank had depleted its cash reserve and deposits of $100,000. The bank was reorganized about ten years ago as a national bank.

Its capital stock was $50,000, the surplus $25,000 and it had undivided profits on September 24 amounting to $19,000. The failure of banks in Arkansas, Tennessee and Kentucky and several in Southeast Missouri is thought to have caused the slow run. Before then the bank had cash on hand amounting to $117,551, $80,000 in bonds and securities and deposits of $508,672.20 with no bills payable. Deposits had dwindled to about $380,000 when the bank closed its doors.

The Citizens Trust Co., closed March 8 and is being liquidated now. The Bank of Caruthersville, the only bank left here, is one of the strongest and largest financial institutions in Southeast Missouri.

Receiver for S. E. Missouri Banks Kennett, November 25.—John A. McAnnally, recently defeated in his race for Presiding Judge of the County Court, has been appointed to handle the liquidation of the Bank of Senath and the First Bank at Campbell.

Word has been received from out in Virginia that a six-year-old granddaughter said Grand-dad in Missouri was going to have Santa Claus bring her a raincoat and a rain hat. What can Santa Claus do in a case like this when we have eight granddaughters?

For one small taxpayer, we speak for ourself when we say we would much prefer an extended white way system at this time than to retire the ten thousand dollar water bonds. Sikeston has been in the dark so long that most every man, woman and child would like to see Sikeston put on the map as having the handsomest white way system of any city of the size in the Central West. The matter of an extension at a later date would be costly and would probably never be done. If we have the price, let's have more light.

It certainly looks as though the City has forgotten the people as they are issuing no Thanksgiving Greeting, the churches and their little bunch prefer to take theirs alone, and it is left to The Standard to tell the people that we are with them, that we have a real feeling for them, that we hope every family has a turkey a goose, a duck, a chicken, a roast, weiner and kraut, or sowbely and beans. We don't know what we are to have as we will eat away from home. We are thankful for a lot of things, for health, for encouragement of friends. For a will to do and the guts to go. We are thankful that in old age we are not a gripe and joy killer, that we can see something good in the worst man or woman, and that we are willing to share with those who are in a worse condition.

The editor and wife were guests of the Joyner Restaurant in the Beck Building on Front Street Tuesday evening at their opening dinner, at which time turkey and all trimmings were served. Every table was filled as soon as dinner was announced. The room is freshly painted and everything bran new and very inviting.

Use of the airplane for scouting various fishes has been successful in many places, but an unusual sight was revealed to Frank Dorbandt while flying high above Cooks inlet, near Kodiak, Alaska, recently. Spouting, rolling and diving, the whales seemed given more to basking in the sun than to seeking or pursuing any species of food fish. Some kinds of whales migrate in late summer to the south and it is possible the pilot noted one of these movements.

Mr. Christmas Shopper Chooses Feminine Gifts for Mrs. Christmas Shopper

The thing that troubles Mr. Christmas Shopper about choosing gifts for his wife, was not that there were so few articles from which to make a choice, but that there were so many! The shops, gay with their holiday decorations were filled with them. It seemed as though all the countries of the world had bent their skill and effort toward the creation of beautiful feminine fripperies that would delight any woman's heart.

But Mrs. Christmas Shopper was particular. She had taste and chic—she always looked charming and her personal appointments were always chosen with the most careful discrimination. How then, could a mere man hope to choose, from this bewildering array, exactly those things which would strike a responsive cord of approval in his wife's eye?

However, the task proved simpler than he had supposed for intelligent salespeople did their best to suggest appropriate gifts. Gifts that had the virtue of being out of the ordinary. And best of all—gifts that did not strike at that vital spot—his pocket book—too hard.

Mr. Shopper Chooses a Hand Bag

First on the list was a hand bag—

he had heard his wife say that she simply must have a new one to go with her beige lapin coat. He knew that with this she wore a beige frock and a hat of beige felt trimmed with lapin. The shoes that she wore with this outfit were brown lizard with matched the brown trimming on her frock. He told an interested saleswoman his story and she produced an envelope bag roomy enough to hold all those gadgets that women store away in their purses. It was of brown kid trimmed with bands of lizard in brown and beige tones. It had a gold mounting set with queer dark bands that the saleswoman told him were tortoise, and very smart. He decided that this would be the bag to choose and was pleasantly surprised to find that it was only fifteen dollars.

Hosiery Next on the List

From experience Mr. Shopper knew that Mrs. Shopper never had enough hosiery. He had heard her say so in no uncertain terms. He simply went to that little shop where he knew Mrs. Shopper always bought her hosiery. Told the saleswoman that he wanted six pairs—two of service weight and four of chiffon. She did the rest. She knew Mrs. Shopper's preference and chose the new dull hosiery in the particular shade that Mrs. Shopper liked for daytime wear.

Two pairs of this shade in chiffon two pairs in service weight. And two pairs of a lovely new lavender-beige shade in the finest chiffon for evening. She told Mr. Shopper that she knew Mrs. Shopper always bought two pairs of the same shade at a time because when two stockings became worn a pair could always be made up of the other two.

Lovely Lingerie For Gifts

Mr. Shopper was just a little fussed about the next gift on his list. It was lingerie. How could he face all those women in the lingerie shop? He wondered if it wouldn't be better to give Mrs. Shopper the money and let her do her own choosing. But no, that wouldn't be the same—there wouldn't be any thrill in it for her. So he bolstered up his courage and went to the lingerie section of a big department store. Here piles and piles of dainty lingerie and garments of the most intimate sort met his embarrassed gaze. However, a dignified saleswoman soon put him at his ease.

He told her that he would like to spend about twenty dollars and that he knew that his wife preferred hand made lingerie in pink with not much lace trimming. She quickly selected a night dress with cunning appliques of blue and rows of fine hand work. That was ten dollars. With the rest she chose an envelope chemise made in the same way at six dollars, a pair of chiffon panties trimmed with dainty cream colored lace at four dollars. That settled the lingerie question. And the ordeal was over.

The Most Important Gift

From now on it was clear sailing. Mr. Shopper knew exactly what to do next. He went to the furriers and asked in assured tones to see the coat Mrs. Shopper had looked at a week ago. He remembered how disappointed she had been when she came home one night and told him that she had seen—positively—the fur coat of her dreams.

It was black Persian lamb, she said, cut on the swankiest lines—it made her look so slender and it was in every way a bargain. But even so, she had felt, with Christmas coming and so many things needed in the house, that it wouldn't be fair to ask him to buy it. He had agreed—feeling a sly satisfaction all the time. For he had made up his mind that this was to be a banner Christmas for his wife, and planned to surprise her with the coat on Christmas day.

The Shopping Completed

It would be a glorious Christmas he was sure as he hurried home his bundles tucked under his arms. Ho, hum. Christmas was a lot of work, and a big expense, but it certainly made a fellow feel good to know that his part of it had been accomplished so satisfactorily.

WINANS BELIEVES FINAL DAY NEAR

The Winans evangelistic campaign at the First Baptist church of this city entered the second week with bumper crowds in attendance at three services Sunday. The main auditorium and Sunday school rooms were filled for the Sunday night service. All-day meetings were resumed Wednesday and splendid attendance marked the launching of the full program of the revival.

The first of the store meetings being conducted each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock was held at The Bijou Confectionery with a large crowd of men to hear Evangelist Winans deliver one of his "hot shots" dealing with the short comings and failures of the male of the species. "Man is the biggest bundle of ego ever wrapped into a hunk of hide," he said, as he drew a word picture of the fellow who presumes to cast aside God's plan for him and attempts to establish his own. "This is a day of big man and little God and unless hard times and business reverses bring us to our senses we are sunk," he declared. The "men only" meetings will be conducted each afternoon in the various places of business on Tuesday through Friday. The preacher uses a cow bell to attract a crowd into his services.

Beginning tonight (Thursday) Winans will deliver a series of sermons on "The Lord's Return" at which time he will deal with the prophecy concerning the life, death, burial, resurrection, ascension and return of Christ. "I believe that the Bible teaches that we are living the latter days and beyond a shadow of doubt, conditions as we are having them today, point to the near return of the Lord," he said in making his announcement of his series of sermons for the next several evenings. The Booster Choir of boys and girls will have charge of the song service Saturday night and will furnish a number of special choruses at that hour. Evangelist Winans is meeting with them each afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for a short rehearsal, getting them ready for the Saturday night program. The Senior young people are organized into two groups, with Miss Virginia Martin captain of the Dodgers and Miss Gladys Conley, captain of the Buicks. Much interest is being manifested by the young people in the contest launched and as the race gets under way, it is dangerous to speculate on just who will win in the end, especially if your speculation is aloud and in the presence of the other group.

The sunrise Thanksgiving service held this morning (Thursday) at six thirty o'clock was well attended and enjoyed by all.

There will be three services Sunday, with the afternoon service at 3 o'clock, at which time the evangelist will speak from the subject, "The Two Horsemen", a sermon dealing with the Battle of Armageddon, or the final great conflict. The revival will continue through next week, it was announced.

TUTO THIEVES WORK RELAY SHIFT SCHEME

New Madrid, November 25.—Saturday night, Mrs. Pete Smith parked her Essex sedan in front of her husband's shop on Main Street, while she did some shopping, and while she was in the store, someone drove away in the car. Word was sent to all neighboring towns, and Monday the car was located near Steele, where it had been abandoned unharmed, but out of gas. Evidently someone beating their way south had taken the car, as a Chevrolet roadster stolen in Cape Girardeau was found near where the Smith car was parked, it also being out of gas. Both cars have been claimed by their owners.

SEARCH REVEALS YOUNG ARSENAL IN CANALOU HOME

New Madrid, November 25.—Ross Latham of Canalou was arrested Saturday on a charge of grand larceny, when authorities from Illinois arrived, and in company with Sheriff Stanley, a search of Latham's home revealed the loot, consisting of one Gerin Luger revolver, a Colt's 45 revolver and a Browning automatic shotgun. Latham had recently visited in Illinois and securing the arms had expressed them to his home in Canalou. Latham had previously served a jail sentence here on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was returned Saturday night to Illinois.

MAN, 81, SAYS KONJOLA ENDED TWO AILMENTS

Civil War Veteran Suffered Ten Years—Has High Praise For New Medicine.

MR. L. M. BOWDISH

"I was troubled with rheumatism and stomach trouble for two years," said Mr. L. M. Bowdish, 81, Civil War veteran, 819 Dougherty street, Neb. City, near Joplin, Mo. "I belched undigested foods after meals and pain from cramps was terrible. My legs, from my knees down became frightfully swollen. Rheumatic pains appeared to rack my entire body.

"I have just taken eight bottles of Konjola and the results have been 100 per cent. I have gained thirty pounds in weight. My stomach is normal and I eat what I wish without discomfort. The pains have left my back and the rheumatism left my body. My limbs are no longer swollen and never pain me. I have told many sufferers about Konjola and will never be without this wonderful medicine in my home."

Such a statement from such a sufferer who reads it. For lasting relief it is recommended that six or eight bottles be taken.

Konjola is sold in Sikeston at the Derris Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

THE MUNICIPAL PLANT

No higher compliment can be paid
a civic body than that paid the City Council by bidders, large and small,
following the letting of a contract
Wednesday night for the construction of a municipal light and power plant.

"Never," said one particular bidder,
"have I met a more business-like group of men, interested in scratching
the last penny for the interests of the city. There was no 'fixing', no 'influence' brought to bear. That scheme could not be worked".

It was admittedly unfortunate that the light plant bonds were sold on a depressed market this summer at a loss to the city of from $12,000 to $15,000. It was unfortunate likewise, that the legality of the vote was questioned, necessitating the expenditure of $1000 on legal fees, and causing the loss of approximately six months in time, interest, charges, and deferred operating revenue of the plant.

It was, however, a stroke of business which led to the saving of approximately $23,000 in net cost to the city, and to the taxpayers. Original estimates ranged from $150,000 to $183,600 for the complete plant. Those estimates were based upon price conditions existing some six months ago.
The six months' delay, after all, represents a genuine saving to the city.
In that length of time, prices of raw materials dropped, manufacturing and business slumped and created a situation most advantageous to the cash buyer.

The City Council had as its weapon
this fact: The City representatives could and did in effect say to bidders, we have the cash. You may have the job and the cash provided you come to us "with a sharp pencil". In other words, if the price is right. By combining bids, the Council reached undreamed-of total of $123,600 for the entire plant, white way distribution system and building.

In the absence of more substantial gifts, the Council and Mayor are hereby accorded a vote of thanks.

There arises, however, the problem of spending the money saved to the best interests of the citizens. The Council will consider first of all, the question of not collecting taxes to pay first year interest charges on the bond issue. There is a legal question involved, which is now being considered by City Attorney Roger Bailey.
Those who have already paid that tax will, if the plan matures and is legal,
receive a refund.

In case there are legal restrictions
upon so using the money, the Council will entertain several other proposed plans of expending it to best advantage.
It might, and probably will be used to retire $10,000 outstanding waterworks bonds, thus stopping interest charges on this public indebtedness.

The third possibility, and one which will probably meet with popular favor, calls for the expenditure of $8000 of the amount to be used in extending the white way system the entire length of Malone avenue from the intersection of Highways 61 and 60 east of town to the Frisco tracks on the West, and from the 'Y' optional 61-60 intersection south of town to the slab limits of Kingshighway on the north. The balance of the amount would under this plan be placed in a reserve operating fund. The latter plan of extending the White Way system is in reality a long-term investment in advertising Sikeston to the hundreds of thousands of tourists and travelers who in time to come will use the highways, and who in the past have found a gloomy, for-bidden looking town. Those who sponsor this plan point out that lights would not necessarily be placed as close together in the extended areas, north, east, south and west.
There is no argument with the statement that well-lighted highways into the city represent a pleasing and lasting impression.

Again, congratulations to the citizens of Sikeston, for having a public board interested wholeheartedly in the interests of the City.

If the weather remains so cold, both boys and girls who attend the football game, had better wear their heaviest britches—if they wish to enjoy the sport in comfort.

Two hundred and fifty million dollars more are to be released to the Farm Board for farm aid in 1931.
That amount has been used in 1930 for the benefit of agriculture, it is said. We now know sixteen millions of it went to the Mabel Wilderbrandt's Grape Juice Association of California, that soon turns to wine, prohibitionists say. Then we know the Farm Board has purchased millions of bushels of wheat on the Board of Trade, in a gambling way. It is interesting to ponder as to what they will do with the money the coming year. Now, will someone in this community tell us of a single farmer who has received any of this aid.

Several years ago jealousy and rivalry among surgeons and doctors at Cape Girardeau caused a second large hospital to be erected in that city. The second hospital has been a financial failure from the day of opening. Now comes the folks who are holding the bag and are trying to interest Baptists of Southeast Missouri and nearby States, to take over the hospital as a sectarian institute.
Our Rev. Rudloff is mentioned as one of the preachers present. To our way of thinking, this would be a costly thing for Baptists or any other denomination. In the first place, the second hospital at Cape Girardeau was not needed and those who sponsored the same, should hold the bag of failure. If Sikeston Baptists wish to do a Christian act, they might look into the needs of the Emergency Hospital in Sikeston and the many charity cases that have come, and will come to them.

The Standard has four subscribers who are incarcerated in prison for law violations. This paragraph is to let them know that on this Thanksgiving Day they are not forgotten. They are paying the debt they owe society and while the day will be a day of gloom, there are brighter days ahead, so have courage and be thankful for health for after all that is something.
Beyond the clouds the sun shines and when the score is settled, friends and family will be waiting to give encouragement and lend a helping hand.

From way up in New York State,
we have a message to the effect that we should go back over our files and reprint divers and sundry of our editorial paragraphs in book form. This is mighty nice, but after some should be printed we wonder what we could do with them, how they could be grouped without conflict. Some of them would be of the rough neck variety while others be morose and melancholy, some gripe and some rip —oh, well, maybe it will be best to close the book of the past and try to do better in the future.

combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

The new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

This great value is the outcome of four basic Chevrolet advantages: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen immense, modern plants. (2) The economies which result from great purchasing power. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close association with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer a car with a longer wheelbase—greater roominess and comfort—strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury—more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater dependability. And to pass on these savings of efficient manufacturing to the buyer in the form of lower prices!

PARASITIC FLIES SAVE $100,000 TO PEACH GROWERS

New Haven, Conn., November 24.—A few thousand dollars worth of parasitic flies saved almost $100,000 worth of peaches in Connecticut this year, the State Agricultural Experiment Station announces. This seems to forecast a possible curb on the Oriental peach moth, which has covered much of the United States east of the Mississippi River, causing most of the wormy peaches.

In this case science set a thief to catch a thief, one of the most effective of crop protections. Two kinds of parasitic flies were used, one band robbing the moths eggs, the other their young.

Attack on the eggs was made by trichogramma, an almost invisibly small fly, which bores holes in peach moth, eggs and inserts its own eggs. The other flies, macrocentrus, much larger, lay eggs on the bodies of the peach moth larvae. This allows the larvae a chance to do damage, but not much, for presently the cocoon out of which a peach moth should emerge sends forth macrocentrus, which have eaten the moths inside.

These two parasite flies were sent to 140 Connecticut orchards which year ago lost $200,000 from the peach moth. The trichogramma was distributed in the form of about 4,000,000 eggs on cards which were hung in peach trees to hatch. About 12,000 live macrocentrus flies were shipped. The director of this experiment, Dr. Philip Garman, assistant entomologist, says he wants to try the flies for one or two seasons more, to make certain that nature did not add some special conditions which partly account for this year's success.

Mandalays temperature is 8, but the humidity is always very high.

FLIP OF COIN SETTLES QUESTION OF WHO WILL BE HEALTH OFFICER

Cape Girardeau, November 24.—W. D. Black, former owner of the Hotel Idan-ha here, this afternoon won the $110 per month job as city health officer of Cape Girardeau by the flip of a coin.

Henry Haman, Jr., also wanted the job, but in a conference today with Black, they agreed to flip a coin to decide who would make the formal application. Black took "heads" and won.

The motion to appoint Black as health officer was made by Commissioner Philip Steck and seconded by Commissioner Louis Wittmor.

STURGIS WILL BE MISSOURI HIGH COURT COMMISSIONER

Jefferson City, November 24.—The supreme court today appointed John T. Sturgis is a Democrat, and a former judge of the St. Louis Court of Appeals.

NEWS ODDITIES

This isn't such a humdrum, commonplace old world after all.

A young man in Richmond, Va., desiring to make his girl a birthday present, gave her a fire extinguisher he had stolen from a church. Perhaps she needed it to suppress the flaming youth of her acquaintance.

Gerald Peak of Newberry, Mich., recently bit a police dog that bowled him over and the Associated Press flashed the information all over the country. There is an old saying in newspaper shops that if a dog bites a man it isn't news, but if a man bites a dog it's a first-page item.

In Sparta, another Michigan town, where wheat is selling for 67 cents a bushel and a hair cut is valued at 40 cents, barbers are accepting a bushel of wheat in payment for head trimming and giving 27 cents change. It is the only kind of farm relief yet devised which seems to work.

For the second time this year a Chicago man's house was struck by an automobile, hurling two girls out of bed, and injuring them.

A Minneapolis judge would not allow the $75 damages sued for by a girl whose boy friend hugged her so hard that he broke two of her ribs, but judgment was given for a $3 doctor bill. "A good squeeze like that is worth $72", remarked his honor.

All of which goes to prove that for novel entertainment blase people should read the daily news.

An artesian well, which supplied ancient Pompeii with water, has been found, and a proposal is considered to use the well and new pipes to make the garden fountains of old Pompeii flow again.

An investigation by the United States bureau of standards, to provide a safe basis for building chimneys, indicates that a designer is safe if he calculates a wind pressure of 20 pounds a square foot based on a wind sweep of 100 miles an hour.

NO LESS THAN NOTHING

With all those wets going into Congress in this last election, the boys up there will have something more to do than sit around and agree with each other. Perhaps less time will be spent in devising punk wisecracks to use at some feeble function.

I notice by the papers that somebody has actually thought of operating Muscle Shoals, you cant tell me that we haven't plenty of competent men in Congress. Rep. Snell (Republican) thought that one up all by himself.

Or the whole of the House triumvirate, Snell, Longworth and Tilsen.

"Buy now and bring back prosperity" must be pretty well the slogan of the guy that suggested that a $100,000,000 be spent annually on interior waterways. Would be quite a water haul.

Parts of Man's Body Found at Two Places in New York. "Where is My Wandering Body To-night?" quoth the straying head.

Well, I suppose that "Cabaret Minstrel" was pretty good. Ordinarily at an amateur exhibition, I eat up one felt hat and start on the programs, but the other night I didn't get any further than the brim—not bringing in my finger nails.

Honorable mention and the prize of a hair-spring corkscrew to use in opening buttercups, goes to Benny Topper, one of the best end men I've ever heard in amateur circles.

The girls' chorus was also enjoyed, short, but sweet—ah!

"The Call of the Flesh" sounds like a story of hog killin' time. But one of the best pictures anyway.

"Mellon's Son-in-law Given Directorship of the Boards of the U. P., Los Angeles & Salt Lake Lines. By Interstate Commerce Commission". I bet this news swept over him just like a sudden sandstorm. Imagine a man like Mellon being able to obtain such a position like that to keep his daughter in various necessities, one would never have thought of it. Tush!

Christmas will soon be here. Already the Community Fund appeals are coming forth. Before long the "two-bit sheiks" will be dropping their girl friends, the kids with Christmas seals will be tearing down the doors to see you, and Santa Claus placards will blare out the tidings of "Only Twenty-five or Thirty More Shopping Days, Shop Early and Avoid the Slush!"

There are 3200 species of flowers in Japan. The white plum blossom tells of the coming of spring, then follow the cherry, wistaria, azalea, iris, peony, lotus, chrysanthemum and the camelia. The cherry is the monarch of all and it is celebrated by fetes and processions. The chrysanthemum is queen, and on the crest of the emperor. It has been cultivated for 2500 years. The Japanese often enrich the roots of wistaria with rich wine, while their peonies are sometimes nine inches across, and its 80 varieties, when cared for after cutting will last three weeks.

WEATHERMAN WILL SMILE FOR TURKEY DAY BULLDOG-BLUEJAY ENCOUNTER

It will be clear Thursday, says the weatherman, for the annual Turkey Day football classic between Skeston and Charleston. Clear, but it will be "red nose" weather, the kind of red noses which do not originate in compact or bottles.

Even with this bonifide guarantee of good, cold weather is worth no more than the predictions of either Skeston or Charleston with reference to carrying off gridiron honors. Both teams are primed for the battle, Charleston having a weight advantage and the questionable advantage of having defeated the Bulldogs by a three-point margin earlier in the season.

Cunningham is saying "nothin'" "The boys are in fair condition", and with that he dismisses the situation secretly hopeful, however, that the corking display of Cox, and the bullet-like passes of Bennett will prove too much for the men of John Harris Marshall. The diminutive signal barker, Fitzgerald, has been laid up for weeks with an infected toe, and it is doubtful on the eve of the big game, whether or not he will risk the throbbing appendage in football togs. Captain Fox is on his feet again after a seige of cold and la grippe, so his services against the Bluejays may be of questionable nature.

With few exceptions each evening this week and last has found the group of loyal Bulldogs on the local gridiron, charging down the field in mock scrimmage, polishing signal drills, and then repairing to the building for "chalk talks".

Talk about town seems to indicate that Skeston fans will be well represented. Banks, the postoffice, barber shops and cleaning plants will be closed all day, and nearly every other business house in the city will lock its doors at 10 o'clock to allow proprietors and clerks to eat their turkey dinner at home, and then travel to Charleston for the game. At High School "the" game is the subject of every conversation.

Persons having cars and who wish to haul students to the game will confer a favor upon school officials by getting in touch with Mr. Ellise early Thursday morning.

Other eleven in the district will also close the season Thursday afternoon. The game between New Madrid and Mathews for the championship of New Madrid County, will be watched with interest, as will the Jackson Indians vs. Cape Girardeau Bengals clash.

The schedule follows:
Jackson at Cape Girardeau.
Kennett at Caruthersville.
Poplar Bluff at Dexter.
Mathews at New Madrid.
East Prairie at Chaffee (night).

MAKE RACKETS BOW TO PRESENT STATE LAWS, HOOVER URGES

Washington, November 25.—Enforcement of State and Federal laws and a "widespread public awakening" were put forward today by President Hoover as a solution to the problem presented by gangster activities.

He disavowed any intention of proposing "extension of the federal criminal laws to cover racketeering".

"What is needed is the enforcement of laws, and not more laws", he said.

The text of the President's remarks follows:

"The report that I am proposing to Congress any extension of the federal criminal laws to cover racketeering is untrue.

"Every single State has ample laws that cover such criminality.

"What is needed is the enforcement of those laws, and not more laws.

"Any suggestion of increasing the federal criminal laws in general is a reflection on the sovereignty and stamina of State government.

"The Federal Government is assisting local authorities to overcome a hideous gangster and corrupt control of some local governments. But I get no satisfaction from the reflection that the only way that this can be done is for the Federal Government to convict men for failing to pay income taxes on the financial product of crime against State laws.

"What we need is a more widespread public awakening to the failure of some local governments to protect their citizens from murder racketeering, corruption and other crimes, and their rallying of support to the men of these localities that are today making a courageous battle to clean up these places'.

CLEVER RUSE FOILS HOLDUP ATTEMPT

Presence of mind, taking advantage of the situation or what have you probably saved William "Bill" Darrell, Scott County Motor Company workman from losing his week's wages last Saturday night.

Darrell had paid his grocery bill, purchased a few things, and was walking home to the Charles Bratton home, when he was accosted by a stickup man who appeared out of the shadows near the Skeston Lumber Company office.

"Up with 'em. An' hand it over", commanded the one with a revolver. "Haven't a dime with me", began Bill, who was immediately informed that he was telling an untruth. "I just saw you pay your grocery bill Hand over the rest of it".

At this point in the little one-act drama a lone negro man happened along, failed to see the street corner stickup and walked between Darrell and his would-be robber. Darrell took command of the situation by hooking elbows with the negro and walking down the street.

After reporting the incident, he started home again with his groceries and leftover week's wages.

THIEVES FOILED IN ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Earl Johnson, manager of the local Ford Groves Ford Agency, reported nothing missing Tuesday morning from the shop or workroom following an unsuccessful attempt Monday night on the part of thieves to gain entrance to the shop.

Gene Pfefferkorn, bookkeeper at the shop, stated that he locked the place about 8 o'clock Monday night. The following morning early arrivals found a back window broken and door bars removed. All office and supply room doors are latched and evidently the would-be thieves were discouraged or became frightened before they solved the lock combination. They succeeded in drilling or cutting a small hole below a latch in a door which would have admitted them to the parts store room.

Colonel Lindbergh should resent a recent statement released by NEA in the American Republic, live-wire Poplar Bluff newspaper. Says the story: "By cutting down wind resistance, this increases the flying speed to 225 miles an hour". At that rate the Colonel will not reach his three score years and ten.

SEMI-AUTOMATIC "LIFE SAVING FENDER"

A pedestrian is shown a fraction of a second after he had been struck by an automobile traveling at the rate of 20 miles per hour. That the escaped injury is due to the semi-automatic "Life-saving fender" with which the car is equipped, J. A. Scholz demonstrated the device to a group of automotive engineers. The mechanism is released by the driver by means of a pedal projecting from the floor board.

OIL GAUGE WILL PREVENT INJURY

Only Indicator Driver Has to Tell if Something Is Wrong.

The oil gauge is one of the most important instruments on an automobile. The presence of the oil gauge on an instrument board, plus the driver's understanding of it, can prevent damage to the car.

The oil gauge, an engineering bulletin says, is the only indicator the driver has to tell if something goes wrong with the oil supply. If the oil does not circulate, or if there is no oil, the gauge will register zero.

Time to Drive Carefully.

Starting with a cold engine the oil is heavy, and although the gauge indicates a high pressure, very little oil flows through the bearings to be sprayed on the cylinder walls. That is the time to drive carefully and at a moderate speed and not abuse the engine. As the engine warms up a reduction in oil pressure will be noticed as the oil flows freely through the bearings and the operating parts are properly lubricated.

Every type engine has its own average operating pressure, which the motorist should learn from his instruction manual. Any change from this pressure, except higher pressure when the engine is cold, should be investigated at once. Extreme low pressure reading might indicate loose bearings, loose connections in oil line, lack of oil, or oil thinned by dilution.

Function of Oil Gauge.
The function of the oil gauge is to tell if the engine's oiling system is working. It does not, of course, indicate the quantity of oil in the crankcase or condition of the oil filter, the latter a device through which the oil is filtered and kept clean and which should be periodically serviced.

Engineers Study Wind Resistance as Factor

Automotive engineers are now turning their attention to wind resistance as traffic is being speeded up throughout the country, according to the Hoosier Motor club.

The motoring body pointed out that improvement on highways has largely overcome the road and rolling resistance, and with liberalized speed laws, wind resistance has become a factor in maintaining the speed of the car. "While perfect streamlining is the ideal method of overcoming this resistance," says the statement, "and has been used with telling effect on cars entered for speed records, such a step for passenger cars is impractical due to larger bodies and the acute traffic conditions. The tendency today is toward smaller bodies."

"As an alternative step, however, engineers are considering partial streamlining and modification of the present lines of the car with promise of a considerable reduction of wind resistance."

Check All Repair Jobs to Unearth Accidents

Whenever the car has been to a repair shop, it is well to check it over carefully to make sure that no accidental damage has been done. In working on the motor one mechanic accidentally struck the radiator overflow pipe, pinching it, but forgot to straighten it out before delivering the car.

Carburetors that have been removed are apt to pick up dirt from the work bench. A little carbon clogged in one of the vents will cause some very perplexing trouble.

It is not uncommon for mechanics to leave tools around the engine. This may result in serious trouble. In one case a large wrench jammed in such a way that the accelerator could not be pressed all the way down when the driver needed power.

A small wrench left to rattle around the top of the battery may cause a short circuit accompanied by stalling at some moment when power may be badly needed.

Federal Road Aid Plan Is Praised by Official

Commendation of the federal government's apportionment just made of the 1932 federal aid highway funds, totaling $121,000,000, was voiced at Los Angeles by officials of the Federal Motor club through Arthur Goulson, its general manager.

"Any move on the part of the federal or state governments to speed up highway construction will meet with the whole-hearted approval of the motorists of the country," Goulson said. "The apportionment at this time of the funds available July 1, 1931, makes it possible for the states to anticipate their resources, thus serving the two-fold purpose of speeding highway construction, which is greatly needed, and also relieving unemployment."

"As a result of increased federal aid, the years of 1930-31 will mark the peak of highway construction in the United States. The total to be spent by the federal, state and county highway departments in these two years will aggregate $3,500,000,000. Total appropriations for the current year are $1,726,167,000, or an average of $66.35 for each automobile registered in the United States."

Handy Arrangement of Unmatched Garage Doors

It is customary to make the doors of equal width on the ordinary 12 by 18-foot home garage. With doors of this width it is necessary to open first one door and then go back and open the other one. If one door is made extra wide and the other narrow, as shown in the illustration, time is saved

With Garage Doors of Unequal Width, as Shown, the Opening and Closing of Them in High Wind by One Person Is Simple.

because the narrow door can be pushed all the way open even in a strong wind, while a hold is still retained on the other.

An equal amount of time can be saved in closing the doors. Simply walk in with the wide door till you reach a point where the edge of the short door may be grasped and then continue in with both doors.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE FACTS

Check air pressure in tires weekly.

If aviation keeps on it will be as dangerous as motoring.

Southeastern states are spending $170,000,000 this year for highway improvements and maintenance.

If the seat is adjustable as to back angle as well as in relation to the clutch and brake pedals, the car owner should be certain that the adjustment suits him.

When giving attention to the tires, do not forget the spare. Keep it inflated to the proper pressure, see that it also has a dust cap. A tire cover is to be recommended strongly.

Do not park on curves, crests of hills and road intersections. Always leave the maximum amount of space for other vehicles to pass when stopping temporarily or parking.

That wheel "wobble" inherit in the design of the car shows up mostly at higher speeds. If the wheels shake at lower rates it probably is due to looseness or wear rather than design.

For many years medical men have been searching for new anesthetics as complete in their effects of deadening sensation, but more free from the possibility of undesirable consequences. A wonderful new anesthetic called avartin is proving successful. Avartin is given internally, and the patient simply falls into a deep sleep. He may be aroused sufficiently to answer questions or even to converse on a subject, but he feels no pain. Avartin has no adverse effects upon the lungs. On regaining consciousness, the patient breathes quite normally.
